Amal and George Clooney

International Power Couple

Amal and George, are one of the most beloved couples on the planet. Everyone has great admiration and respect for them both. We cannot forget one of the most beautiful Wedding in the history of Venice Italy, on the Grand Canal. I will never forget, her beautiful Hand-Appliqued Oscar de la Renta, Wedding Gown, his last, and her Red Cocktail Dress for the After Party. She was stunning! The Three-day star-studded affair floating down the Grand Canal in decorated white boats, while drinking George Clooney's own brand of Tequila, Casamigos, must have been magical, enough memories for a lifetime. He said once "I am proud to be her husband." Amal is beautiful, brilliant and fascinating. George is a very happy man. I am glad they found each other. It couldn't have happened to nicer people.

Amal Clooney is a British-Lebanese lawyer, activist, and author. She has three siblings one sister and two half-brothers. She is a barrister at Doughty Street Chambers, specializing in International Law and Human Rights. Her clients include Julian Assange, the founder of WikiLeaks, in his fight against extradition. Amal also represented the former prime minister of Ukraine, Yulia Tymoshenko. Amal represented Canadian Al Jazeera English journalist Mohamed Fahmy. Who, along with other journalists, was being held in Egypt. He was eventually sentenced to three years in prison and lost a retrial before finally being pardoned by Egyptian president Abdel Fattah al-Sisi.

Amal graduated with a BA degree in Jurisprudence (Oxford's equivalent to the LLB) from St. Hugh's College, Oxford. In 2001, she entered New York University School of Law to study for the LLM degree, where she was a clerk for the clerkship program at the International Court of Justice. She received the Jack J. Katz Memorial Award for excellence in Entertainment Law. For one semester while at NYU, she worked as a student law clerk at the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit in the offices of Sonia Sotomayor, who is now on the Supreme Court of the United States.

Amal, worked at Sullivan & Cromwell in New York City for three years as part of the Criminal Defense and Investigations Group, where her clients included Enron and Arthur Andersen.

Amal completed a judicial clerkship at the International Criminal Court Justice. She clerked under Judge Vladen S. Vereshchetin from Russia, Judge Nabil Elaraby from Egypt, and ad hoc Judge Sir Franklin Berman from the United Kingdom.

Amal was subsequently based in The Hague working in the Office of Prosecutor at the UN Special Tribunal for Lebanon and at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia.

Amal, in 2014, became involved in the repatriation of ancient Frek sculptures called Elgin Marbles for the Greek government. The sculptures have been part of the collection of the British Museum since 1816. Later that year, Greece decided to stop legal proceedings to recover the sculptures.

In 2014, Amal was signatory of UNICEF UK and Jemima Khan's open letter that urged on the public a call for "action from UK Government to protect women and children." The Office of the UK Attorney General appointed Amal for the period of 2014 to 2019 to the C Panel of the Public International Law Panel of Counsel.

It was announced in 2015 that Amal would be part of the legal team defending Mohamed Nasheed, former President of the Maldives, in his ongoing arbitrary detention. Nasheed was sentenced to 13 years in jail, following what was characterized as a politically motivated trial. Amnesty International described his sentencing as a "travesty of justice." Prior to visiting the Maldives, the local co-counsel working on the case was stabbed in the head, an indication of the danger and instability in the Country. Amal gave a series of interviews about the UN-condemned trail and imprisonment of Nasheed and put for the efforts to support imposing sanctions on the Maldives. According to The Economist, Amal has "helped strengthen the backing of Britain's prime minister, David Cameron, for the cause of Maldivian democracy.

That same year Amal spoke-for the first time at the United Nations-before the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) to discuss the decision she made in June 2016 to represent Murad as a client in legal action against ISIL commanders. Amal characterized the genocide, rape, and trafficking as a "bureaucracy of evil on an industrial scale" by ISIL, describing a slave market existing both online, on Facebook and in the Mideast that is still active today.

"Amal is someone that I enjoy spending every minute of the day with and I'm very proud to be around, watching the things that she does I admire so greatly. I've always been involved in things other than this business long before I was successful at it, but she's been doing it kind of quietly and unheralded for a long, long period of time."

George Clooney is an American Actor, filmmaker, and activist. He has received three Golden Globe Awards for his work as an actor and two Academy Awards, one for acting and the other for producing. Clooney made his acting debut on television in 1978, and later gained wide recognition in his role as Dr. Doug Ross on the long-running medical drama ER for 5 years, for which he received two Primetime Emmy Award nominations. While working on ER, he began attracting a variety of leading roles in films, including the superhero Batman & Robin and the crime comedy Out of Sight. Clooney's biggest commercial success, was the remake of Ocean's Eleven, the first of what became a trilogy starring Clooney. He made his directorial debut a year later with the biographical spy comedy, Confessions of a Dangerous Mind, and has since directed a historical drama, a sports drama, a political drama, and a war film, The Monuments Men.

Clooney won an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actor for the Middle East thriller Syriana and received the Academy Award for Best Picture for producing the political thriller Argo. He is the only person who has been nominated for an Academy Award in six different categories, Best Picture, Best Actor, Best Supporting Actor, Best Director, Best Original Screenplay and Best Adapted Screenplay.

Clooney was included in Time Magazine, as one of the "Most Influential People in the World". He is also noted for his political activism, and has served as one of the United Nations Messengers of Peace since 2008. His humanitarian work includes his advocacy of finding a resolution for the Darfur conflict, raising funds for the Haiti Earthquake, Armenian Genocide recognition, Tsunami, and 9/11 victims, and creating documentaries such as Sand and Sorrow to raise awareness about international crises. He is also a member of the Council of Foreign Relations.

His mother Nina Bruce was a Beauty Queen and City Council woman. His father, Nick Clooney is a former Anchorman and Game Show Host, at AMC for five years in the late 1990s. Clooney has Irish, German, and English Ancestry.

In 2011 Clooney starred in The Descendants as a husband whose wife has an accident that leaves her in a coma. He earned critical praise for his work, and won the Broadcast Film Critics Association Award for Best Actor and the Golden Globe Award for Best Actor – Motion Picture Drama.

Clooney co-starred with Sandra Bullock in Gravity (2013), a science fiction thriller directed by Alfonso Cuarón. he co-wrote, directed and starred in The Monuments Men, an adaption of the Robert M. Edsel's Book. Clooney also produced August: Osage County (2013), an adaptation of the play of the same name. The film starred Meryl Streep and Julia Roberts. Clooney reunited with Julia Roberts for the Jodie Foster-directed thriller Money Monster. Clooney supported President Obama's campaigns in the 2008 and 2012 Presidential Elections. He is a supporter of gay rights. In 2003, he opposed the Iraq war, saying "You can't beat your enemy anymore through wars; instead you create an entire generation of people seeking revenge." Clooney endorsed Hillary Clinton for the 2016 Presidential Election.

Hal David

His Magic Moments

There is Always Something There to Remind Me

Eunice and Hal David's love for each other was legendary. For the first time, Eunice recounts her exciting life as the wife of one of the world's most renowned lyricists. Memorable anecdotes include how Hal came to write some of his most iconic songs, such as the Academy Award-winning "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," "What the World Needs Now is Love," "To All the Girls I've Loved Before," and "The Four Winds and the Seven Seas." All set within the span of their world-wide travels and historic events, this novel covers their magical twenty-five years of marriage, which all began with a simple game of tennis.

That chair was purchased in the early 1940's for about twenty-five dollars, and it has since been recovered, refinished, and even re-sprung. It followed Hal from house to house and from apartment to apartment - even from state to state. It was the chair in which Hal sat to think, to read, and even to take the occasional nap.

About the Author

Eunice David devotes her time to philanthropic work in her community and also serves on numerous Boards, including the Board of Governors of Cedars-Sinai Hospital in Los Angeles. Both she and her late husband, Hal David, produced five extremely successful shows, the proceeds of which benefitted the Los Angeles Music Center. The two were happily married for twenty-five years. Eunice David has also written numerous travel journals and another novel entitled High Rise, Low Down.

Something Big is Happening in Dance

Gloria Kaufman, is a very mild mannered person on the exterior, but a very strong person in the interior. She wheels a firm hand in business, and in her philanthropy. She says “I choose you. You don’t choose me.” USC is very excited Gloria chose them! The gift of untold millions? USC built her dream dance school, with her name on it. Gloria Kaufman International Dance Center, GKIDC. She tells the story of how she met her husband, Donald Kaufman, a young struggling home builder. They went on a Blind Date set-up by a neighbor. The neighbor would see Gloria and her mother outside in the garden picking flowers. He said “I have a friend I would like to introduce you to. I want to get all the Virgins off the block.” Gloria and Donald, met and hit it off so well. They married and had four children. Donald loved to dance. That was all Gloria needed to know. Gloria would dance every night if she could. Gloria loves to watch the dance competitions on television. When you see the billboards that read Kaufman and Broad, Gloria is the “K” in the Corporation. She and Eli Broad’s wife Edie, are first cousins. The Dance World now has its own Angel, Gloria Kaufman. USC Kaufman School of Dance, is the first New School to open since 1974 on the USC campus.

A New Hub For Dance

Beyond its scale, the sizable structure is also positioned to make a big impact on Southern California’s creative community as a new hub for dance. Since welcoming its first BFA class in 2015, USC Kaufman has collaborated with some of the foremost dance innovators and companies in the world today. With its five dance studios and performance studio, the Gloria Kaufman International Dance Center designed by Pfeiffer Partners, creates a home for dance that will facilitate learning and artistic exploration for students and artist alike.

The Next Chapter In Dance History

With roots that trace back to pioneers of modern dance and dance on screen, Los Angeles remains a haven for artists at the frontiers of their fields. Now USC Kaufman is taking the next step, making an indelible mark on the history of dance in Los Angeles by creating a new home for the art form within the region’s vibrant landscape.

Gloria Kaufman Presents Dance at The Music Center, is one of the leading presenters and commissioners of dance on the West Coast, offering significant works by internationally acclaimed ballet and contemporary dance companies. Collaboration with this program, USC Kaufman will create connections between students and distinguished dance artists through master classes, professional workshops and an artist-in-residence program.

Brunch Benefiting the Rape Center and the Stuart House, Santa Monica

Viola Davis and Cheryl Saban

Actress Viola Davis and Philanthropist Cheryl Saban, were honored by the Rape Treatment Center and the Stuart House at Santa Monica UCLA Medical Center. The Brunch was MC'd by David Schwimmer. The Rape Foundation funds comprehensive, state-of-the-art treatment for sexual assault victims-children and adults- including 24-hour emergency medical treatment and forensic services, advocacy, professional counseling, and court accompaniment; prevention programs that reach 12,000 middle school, high school, and college students each year; professional training programs for police, prosecutors, victim advocates, medical care providers, and school personnel to enhance the treatment victims receive wherever they turn for help; and Stuart House- an innovative, internationally recognized model program created to serve the special needs of Child Victims. All of these services are free.

This is from Paula 17 years old:

“When you can’t trust your family, it’s hard to trust anyone. When I first came to Stuart House, I felt lost and scared. I was so ashamed. But, everyone at Stuart House made me feel safe. Because they believed in me, I found my voice, and slowly I began to believe in myself. Now, I am a relentless young woman.”

Gloves are not the Answer

Dr. Fodor says “you can now have more beautiful Hands”

Women have been successful through the years in maintaining a youthful appearance by having facelifts, Botox and fillers. Fat injections also became popular. But no matter how good the results there was an area that belied the otherwise youthful look. The hands!!! The first solution to this was to wear gloves. Although the glamorous, long evening gloves worked well, that was a part time solution. Then surgery was tried with scars and poor results. Fat injections were painful and swelling lasted for a very long time. Results were unpredictable as was absorption. It has taken a long time but we are now at a point when good results are possible, immediately and painlessly. Dr. Fodor uses the cutting edge technology with injections for the hands resulting in a beautiful, younger looking hand accomplished in less than 30 minutes in the office setting. He uses a filler that is particularly suited for this purpose. It is long lasting and can be easily retouched if needed. If the result is not satisfying, another easily injectable solution can be used to immediately reverse the result. This surprisingly straight forward procedure can take years off one's hands. This is only one of the exciting experiences that can be found at Dr Fodor's office. More details 310.203.9818.

Periodontal Implant Center

Dr. David Anson

*T*hese are the words of my own experience. Dr. David Anson, lectures all over the World including Israel. Dr. Anson is one of the Country's leading Periodontist. He makes you feel so confident, never afraid. When you walk into his office it's cozy. You think you are in your living room.

His love of Italian Art and Oriental Rugs makes his office warm and inviting. I personally have had several implants done by him. I can only tell you they were virtually painless. He makes you feel so comfortable with his quiet manner. You will be pleased with your procedure and have a more beautiful smile.

“He makes you feel so comfortable with his quiet manner”

I will tell you a true story. Dr. Anson is the Periodontist, Periodontist. I went to another Beverly Hills Periodontist before I met Dr. Anson. The other Periodontist work was, so sub-standard he refunded my money and recommended that I go to see Dr. David Anson. He also provided me with his telephone number and address. I am happy to be there. L.F.

Eye surgery has undergone a renaissance over the past twenty years. Local Beverly Hills eye surgeon Brian Boxer Wachler, MD has been at the forefront of many of these advances. Dr. Brian, as affectionately known by his patients, is also a dedicated family man. He and his wife Selina (an architect) stay very involved with raising their twin daughters, now ten years old. The Boxer Wachler family recently grew by four feet by adopting a rescue dog, Roxy. Dr. Brian also finds time to coach one of his daughter's recreation center basketball team.

LASIK is typically a 5-minute procedure with just a one day recovery.

Cataract surgery has evolved significantly over recent years. You might have cataracts if it has become difficult to drive at night from light being too bright or glare and halos around oncoming car headlights. A cataract is a clouding of your natural lens akin to a film developing on your car windshield. Modern cataract surgery is typically a painless, fifteen minute procedure where the cloudy lens is removed and a clear implant lens is inserted. The major advances have been in the types of implants that have been FDA approved. The most advanced implants are those that correct astigmatism (football shape of the eye) and implants that help you read AND see distance ("bifocal lens implants"). These lens implants cannot be felt once implanted and can dramatically improve vision.

Keratoconus is condition whereby the cornea (outer lens of the eye) bulges out like a hernia and can cause a tremendous amount of distortions especially at night like double and triple vision along with streaks of light. It occurs in 1 in 500 people. Keratoconus can worsen over time which makes night driving impossible. Dr. Brian invented the Holcomb C3-R procedure thirteen years ago that stops Keratoconus in its tracks along with a 99.3% success rate. The procedure's namesake, Olympic Gold Medalist Steven Holcomb, had his Keratoconus treated by Dr. Brian which later enabled Mr. Holcomb to win Gold at the Vancouver Winter Olympics then double Bronze at the Sochi Winter Olympics. Seventeen years ago Dr. Brian pioneered Intacs inserts for Keratoconus that improve vision. These procedures can prevent the need for a cornea transplant and have done just that for thousands of people.

LASIK is a well-established laser procedure to improve vision of those who wear glasses and contact lenses. This year is the 25 year anniversary of LASIK and Dr. Brian was invited by the Greek professor and inventor of the procedure to speak this past summer in Greece at the commemorative conference. LASIK is typically a 5-minute procedure with just a one day recovery. It can be performed on people starting at age 18 years old, so there is no need to wait until you are older to have it. With modern day LASIK no one has ever gone blind (a common myth) and it is pain-free. Dr. Brian developed the use of large optical zone with the laser to reduce the risk of glare and halos at night and invented Fortified LASIK that is revolutionary as it strengthens the cornea for long-lasting results.

Millions of people, mostly women, suffer from dry eyes especially when they are older. Dr. Brian invented the use of testosterone eyelid cream to treat dry eyes which otherwise is a chronic condition. He based his treatment on Harvard medical school research published 18 years ago. He often combines his testosterone cream with a 12-minute procedure called Lipiflow that cleans out inflamed and clogged eyelid oils glands that is often the source of dry eyes.

More information about "Dr. Brian" Boxer Wachler, MD and his treatments is at www.BoxerWachler.com.

Rams Welcome Home

The Beverly Hills Sheet, is extremely excited to have the Rams back home. We had a great relationship with the Rams Twenty years ago. We were at every home game in Anaheim. We went with the team to New Orleans (twice) to play the Saints, Georgia, said to me “you can come only if you promise not to root for the Saints.” (I was born in New Orleans.) We were also invited to St. Louis for a weekend to see their New Digs. The Rams New Digs in the City of Inglewood will be spectacular. The people of Los Angeles are very excited! The Rams belongs in Los Angeles. Welcome Home!

Stan Kroenke, is an American Business Entrepreneur. He is the owner of Kroenke Sports Enterprise, which includes the Denver Nuggets of the NBA, Colorado Avalanche of the NHL, Colorado Rapids of Major League Soccer, Colorado Mammoth of the National Lacrosse League and the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL (the Colorado sports properties are in the name of Josh Kroenke, one of his children, to satisfy NFL ownership restrictions that forbid a team owner from owning teams in other markets. Kroenke is also the largest shareholder of English football club Arsenal. His wife, Ann Walton Kroenke, is the daughter of Walmart co-founder James Walton. Kroenke was estimated to be worth $US 8 Billion by Forbes in 2016. We look forward to continuing our Rams relationship. LaVetta

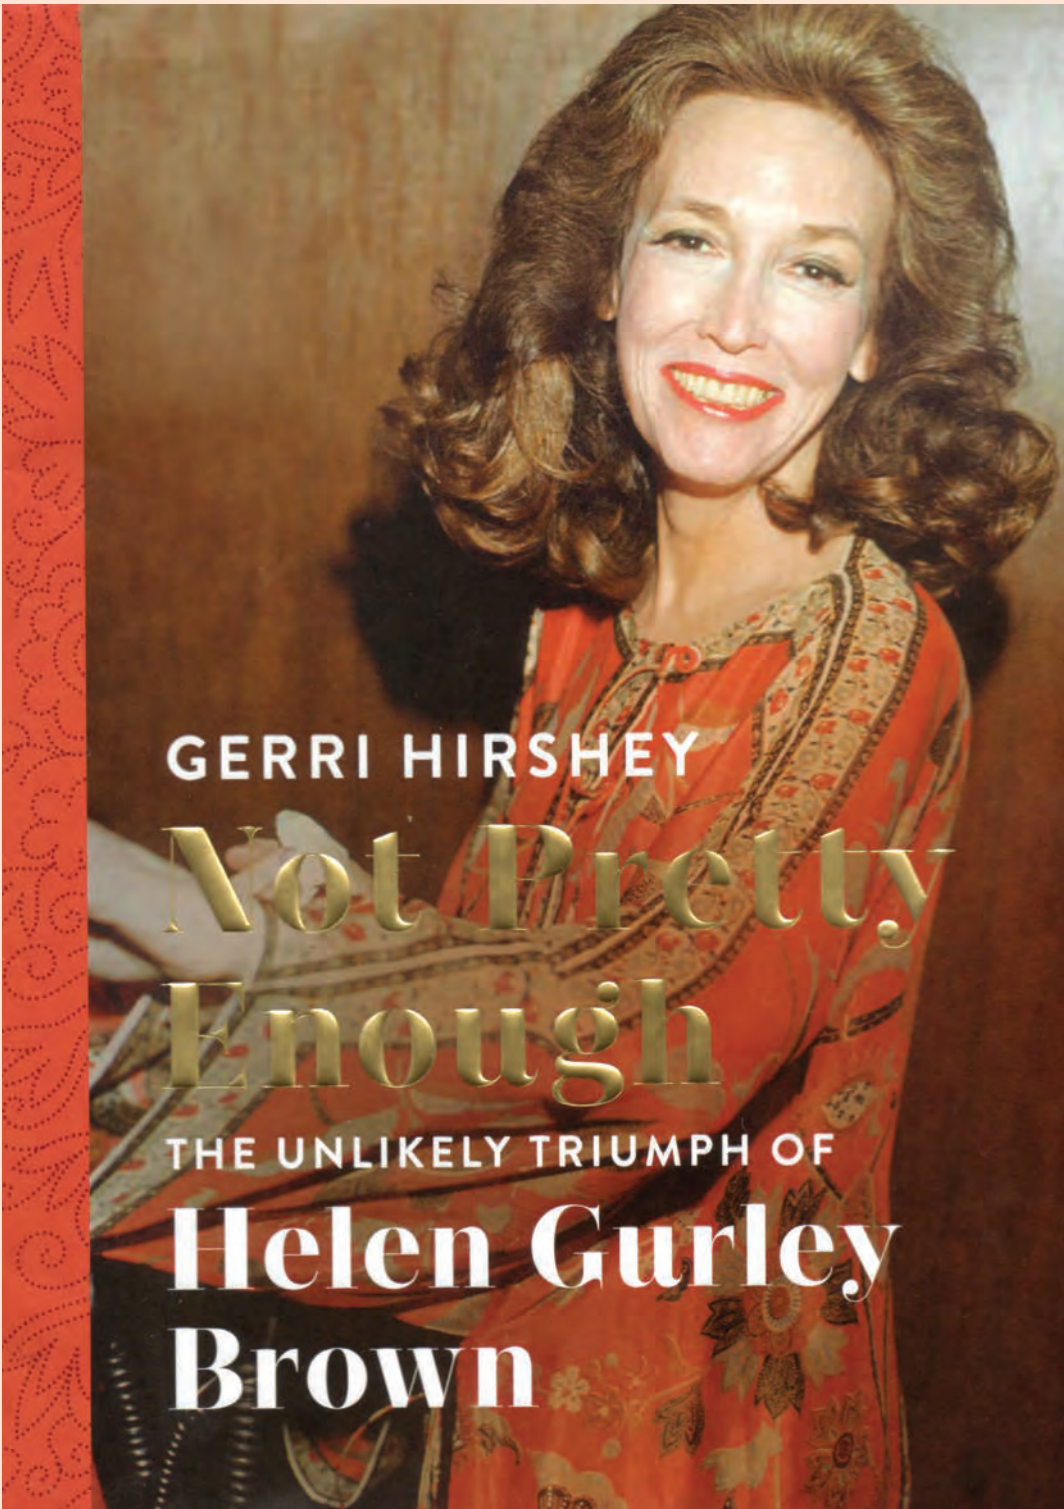

Children’s NEWS

Stefanie Trenholme is the owner of Trenholme Pediatric Speech Therapy LLC, a speech pathology private practice in the Los Angeles area. She provides speech therapy to children ages 2-18 and specializes in children with Autism Spectrum Disorders, learning disabilities as well as children with executive functioning deficits, Apraxia of Speech, and Myofunctional disorders. She holds a Master's degree in Communicative Disorders and Sciences. She additionally has a Bachelor of Science in Psychology, Bachelor of Fine Arts in Art Education and a Post Graduate Diploma in Communication Disorders. Stefanie is licensed with the California Speech -Language Pathology and Audiology Board (SLPAB), as well as holds her Certificate of Clinical Competency from the American Speech and Hearing Association (ASHA). Stefanie has additionally been presented with the Award for Continuing Education (ACE) by ASHA's Continuing Education Board five times in recognition of her continued professional study. Recently she began a social skills group with colleague Natasha Parsakia, a Board Certified Behavior Analyst, called "Little P.I.C.A.S.S.Os" (Providing Interpersonal Communication And Successful Speech Outcomes). Their group aims to develop and improve social language skills and positive social interactions with peers through the use of art and play. Stefanie has a unique addition to her practice, Lola (Little Lola Frenchie), who is a therapy dog. Research has shown that contact with a therapy animal can help improve a child's physical, mental, emotional and social state, which in turn will help them better engage and participate in the therapy process and assist with their treatment. In her practice, Stefanie has found that having Animal Assisted (Speech) Therapy (AAT) can help children build their confidence, reduce children's fears and anxieties, help teach children appropriate behaviors with both animals and people, and increase engagement and motivate children to meet their speech therapy goals.

Forbes Publishing, was started in August 1990. It was started with an idea of highlighting what's going on in the City of Beverly Hills and around the World. We have been privilege to cover many events involving: major Charity Balls, Sports, Social and Philanthropic events in the United States, Europe, South Africa, South Pacific, Japan, China and South America. We look forward to the next 25 years.

- Our major feature over the years was Honoring "The Most Exciting Women." (over one hundred and twenty of them.)
- We have chosen sixteen women as a review from our various issues.
There was a luncheon, for the "Most Exciting Women", at the Bistro Garden, Bel-Air Hotel or the Peninsula Hotel over the years. They were given their pictures in silver frames with their names engraved on them. Every lady, got to take home a 1oz. bottle of Elizabeth Taylor's White Diamond Perfume, at each place setting. The ladies always had a great time.
- Some magazine pictures will have copy and some won't because they are coming from twenty year old magazines. There is a big difference in today's technology.
- Five Star Hotels around the World, we reviewed over 150 Hotels, we have chosen three.
- Twelve covers from the "Beverly Hills Sheet"
- Four covers from our first publication, the Beverly Hills 90212

We would like to Thank all of you. The People and the Advertisers who have supported us for the past Twenty-Five years. To the "Most Exciting Women" we would like to say, Thank You for doing the "Caring Work as Volunteers, that bought you to our attention. We were Honored to Honor you. You opened your Homes and businesses to us, and we Thank You. LaVetta.

Walter Camp A Proud tradition

Walter Camp, is The Father of American football,” he first selected an All-America team in 1889. Camp- a former Yale University athlete and football coach- is also credited with developing play from scrimmage, set plays, the numerical assessment of goals and tries and the restriction of play to eleven men per side.

The Walter Camp Football Foundation a New Haven Connecticut-based all-volunteer group -was founded in 1967 to perpetuate the ideals of Camp and to continue the tradition of selecting annually an All-American team.

January of 2017 will be the 50th year honoring the All- Americans on the Yale Campus in New Haven. Members of the first team honored the Inaugural year had a Back Field that included: Quarterback Terry Hanratty (Notre Dame) Leroy Keys (Perdue) Jerry Levias (SMU)and O.J. Simpson (USC).

As part of the weekly festivities some players went on the Tonight Show with Johnny Carson in New York. It was there where a 5’-6 Levi as sat in a chair and his feet didn’t quite touch the floor. “I can remember him (Carson) looking at me and saying to me how are you doing Little Fellow.”

WC FF also gives out an “Alumni Award” in 2017 it will be All-Century Team member and NFL Hall of Famer Orlando Pace (The Ohio State University) is the recipient of the 2016 Walter Camp “Aiumni Award.” He will be recognized at the Awards Dinner January 2017.

“We are delighted to recognize Orlando Pace with the Walter Camp Alumni Award,” Foundation president Robert Kauffman said. “He was one of the most dominant Offensive Linemen in the history of collegiate and professional football.”

Pace joins a distinguished list of former “Alumni Award” winners, that includes: Alan Page (Notre Dame), Bo Jackson (Auburn), Tony Dorsett (Pittsburgh), Herschel Walker (Georgia), Mark May (Pittsburgh), Tim Brown (Notre Dame), Derrick Brooks (Florida State) and last year’s recipient Doug Williams (Grambling).

The event has been televised on ESPN with Master of Ceremonies being ESPN’s John Anderson.

Hall of Famer Jerome Bettis received the Walter Camp “Man Of the Year Awar John Elway and Dick Butkus. After accepting the award in front of 2,000 Walter Camp fans and a National Television Audience. Bettis said “I got a bone to pick with Walter Camp, on the first All-American team.-he didn’t have a Fullback”.

Raffles Palace Montreux

Switzerland

Raffles Le Montreux is situated on the shores of Lake Geneva, overlooking the lake and French Alps. The luxury hotel is a jewel of the Belle Epoque architecture and the pearl of the Swiss Riviera. Built in 1906, the hotel offers a traditional and elegant atmosphere, personalized service in true Swiss style. Its 235 rooms and suites are luxuriously furnished offering both comfort and latest technology.

Switzerland is without a doubt is the most beautiful place on earth. Every Christmas card you have ever seen will remind you of Switzerland. The people are very warm and caring. The air is the freshest You'll sleep like you have never slept before. It's like being in heaven. Switzerland is truly heaven on earth. I said "if there is a prettier place, the Lord kept it for himself." Switzerland is a must see!

You arrive on Swiss International Airlines, then flown in a helicopter or driven in a limousine from Geneva airport, whichever you prefer. Switzerland has every luxury amenity you would like. Including special packages. The Raffles Montreux Palace is a favorite of people who want every luxury available. The hotel is on the ground directly in front of Lake Geneva. The Montreux Palace now has a Casino and the Amrita Spa. Their spa will give you a thrill. When you are in the hotel, you look over the lake and you will see a big park with benches and flowers.

Then when you go to the spa, you will discover you are under that park, but still facing a great view of the lake. You can walk out along the lake if you like and have lunch on the terrace in your robe. The Amrita Spa at The Montreux Palace is large with an indoor-outdoor swimming pool. Private treatment rooms of all kinds, offering from massages to saunas, Aloe Vera body wraps and Reflexology, to name a few.

The very handsome Mr. Michael Smithuis is the General Manager of The Montreux Palace, and his very qualified staff will attend to your every need. The lovely and most efficient Public Relations person Bettina Sickinger will make sure your every need is fulfilled, from getting tickets to the Jazz Festival, which is very hard, to making your stay as great as possible. We have talked about the Luxury. I am sure you are wondering what is the tab on such a stay. The hotel has a package they call "Romance at the Palace," 4 nights, accommodations for two persons in a luxurious suite with champagne aperitif and buffet breakfast, 4 course dinner for two persons in the Jaan restaurant on the second night, access to the Amrita SPA, fresh fruit and juice in the Amrita SPA, "Elixir of Youth" treatment of 140 minutes for two persons, In-Suite dinner on the first night, Limousine transfer from the Geneva airport - Montreux Palace - Geneva airport or you can helicopter up to 4 passengers including luggage, one way. This amounts to about $6,000 U.S. You will never have a more fabulous and romantic stay. Nor will you ever have more fabulous food than at the Michelin star restaurant, Jaan, on the upper-level overlooking the French Alps and Lake Geneva. The chef of Jaan is French cook David Tarnowski. His previous experiences include well-known restaurants such as "Louis XV" and the "Bar adn Boeuf" of Alain Ducasse in Monte Carlo; the "Chantecler" of the Hotel Negresco in Nice; "La Palme d'Or" of the Hotel Martinez in Cannes.

He has also worked under Chef Christian Morisset in the restaurant "La Terrasse" of the Hotel "Le Juana" in Juan Les Pins, South of France. Montreux Palace is truly an exciting place.

The Peninsula, Beverly Hills

Offer Nissenbaum, has certainly taken the Peninsula Hotel to a whole new level of elegance and chic. Nissenbaum was over the Omni Hotels before coming to the Peninsula a year ago. The most impressive part of his training was under Leona Helmsley, the “Queen of Mean, for five years he was taught the highest standards in hotel administration, and a tone for the highest quality and details. If you look around the hotel you can see his mark. The hotel and its “Roof Top Restaurant” with its outdoor fireplace and private sitting areas overlooking “Century City.” A truly romantic place to dine. The cuisine in all of the Peninsula’s restaurants is superb.

The Roof Garden: The new $4 million renovation, designed by famed designer Cheryl Rowley, was unveiled. The pool area of the Roof Garden, open to guests, sports twelve new state-of-the-art Pool Cabanas, with flatscreens and wi-fi. The Roof Garden Restaurant has heated tile floors, for year-round al fresco dining, a private dining alcove backed by a “living wall” of greenery, a bar and a lounge area surrounding a fire pit. The restaurant is open to the public and serves breakfast, lunch and dinner daily. Specialties include California market-driven fresh cuisine and healthy “Naturally Peninsula” dishes.

Executive Chef, David Codney oversees all aspects of the hotel’s cuisine. Most recently, he was tasked with the tremendous undertaking of creating the new menu for the property’s signature restaurant The Belvedere, which re-opened as a seafood-centric Mediterranean concept. His seasonally-driven menu focuses on locally sourced ingredients of the highest quality and features a large selection of sustainably caught seafood. Signature dishes such as Salt Cod Croquettes and Grass-fed Lamb Tagine are rustic and simply prepared to reflect Codney’s firm belief in letting the produce shine.

Prior to joining The Peninsula Beverly Hills, Chef Codney spent many years of his career at The Ritz-Carlton, Naples, Florida, where he rose to the position of Executive Chef, opening new Ritz-Carlton hotels throughout North America. When he is not cooking, Chef Codney enjoys picking apples with his five-year old twins to create his incredible house-made apple butter, or home brewing a delicious craft beer.

KAZANJIAN

ESTATE JEWELRY AND RARE GEMS SINCE 1913

The vision to create 'The Star of The Universe and Beyond' was inspired, designed and executed by Stan Kazanjian, the chief designer of the 100 year old family wholesale jewelry company, Kazanjian Bros. Inc.

That discovery, sometime in the 1950's, along with 6 other rare rough sapphires represented a landmark accomplishment for the founders Harry & James with their newly formed foundation.

The first four sapphires were carved into the busts of Lincoln, Washington, Jefferson, & Eisenhower. After many years on loan to the Smithsonian Institute, they were brought to the oval office at The White House at the request of then President Reagan.

The fifth, 'Star of Queensland,' a beautiful cabochon cut star sapphire, was also exhibited at the Smithsonian Institute & later sold to provide scholarships to the Gemological Institute of America.

The sixth, rough sapphire was cut into what became the 'Star of Jolie', designed by Angelina Jolie to support her charities in Africa. This stone has superseded the Star of Queensland, and is now recognized to be the largest black star sapphire in the world.

Today the Kazanjian Foundation maintains an international presence and is continually seeking acquisitions for charitable endeavors.
